From California.

The Sacramento Union says that Albert A. Austin, of Brighton township, Sacramento county, was shot and instantly killed, on the 16th inst., by a man named Seeger. The deceased was attempting to assist the constable in levying on some property, to secure a debt due deceased by A. G. Detrick, at whose place Seeger was temporarily residing. Seeger is a German, and has resided in Sacramento City since 1852. Austin was a native of Massachusetts, and aged 35 years.

The S. F. Call of the 18th inst. has the following: On the 10th inst., while John Whitedge was piping in his claim, near Gold Run, Placer county, he fell from the plot on which he was standing into the ground sluice, a distance of forty feet, and was instantly killed.

The mining property of Cole & Stevens, at Brandy City, Sierra county, has been purchased by Phillip Van Rensalaer, of New York, for $100,000. The property consists of some of the best gravel claims in Placer county, which will be developed as fast as men and money can do it.

Owing to the fact that those who were sick on the America are convalescent, and that no case of disease has appeared during the last six days, the cabin passengers will be permitted to land to-day, and the steerage passengers to-morrow. So the Board of Health has decided, on report of the Quarantine Officer.

The Board of State Capitol Commissioners have decided to build the second and third stories of the new State Capitol of brick, instead of granite. The excuse given for this decision is, that the building can be completed in less time and at less cost with brick than with granite.

Yesterday morning, as the eight-o'clock train was approaching the ferry landing on the Oakland side, James De Fremery, a well known merchant doing business in this city, jumped off before the cars had fully stopped, and in some way fell, or struck, upon his hip; fracturing his leg.

D'ARTOIS REDIVIVUS.—From private letters, dated at Mazatlan, and information received from a passenger on the Saranac, we gain intelligence of the gentleman who figured so conspicuously in the brig Bacco affair. On the 26th of December last, D'Artois and nine men, among whom were Malcolm, Kohler, and others from this city, went on board the small steamer Cologne, them lying in the harbor at Mazatlan, and, getting her under way, sailed for Cape St. Lucas. The ostensible object of the expedition was the capture of a French whaler, supposed to be in Magdalena Bay; but on the passage it was discovered that the real object of the cruise was to ward trip, it having been asserted that sufficient men in the interests of the Corona faction had taken passage at this port for Mazatlan, to insure the success of the undertaking. When the Cologne arrived at the Cape, she was boarded by an officer of the United States steamer Suwanee, the last named vessel being at the Cape for the express purpose of looking out for just such adventurers. After satisfying himself of the objects of the party, Captain Shirley, of the Suwanee, ordered the D'Artois party on shore, and placed a crew of ten men on board the Cologne, with orders to take her back immediately to Mazatlan. The Suwanee then sailed north to Magdalena Bay, and, after cruising about for several hours, and discovering no vessel of any kind, went back to the Cape, and, taking the D'Artois party on board, sailed to Mazatlan and landed them. D'Artois was informed that his occupation was hazardous, and that measures would be taken by our vessels to stop it. One of the persons who went on board the Colonge with D'Artois, under a misapprehension of the objects of the trip, arrived yesterday as a passenger on the Saranac.—San Francisco Call, January 19th.

PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION.—The consolidation of the Quartermaster, Subsistence and Pay Departments of the army into one organization, to be called "The Commissariat of the United States Army," is engaging the attention of the general officers now in Congress. Such is the organization of the principal armies of Europe, and such was the organization of the Disbursing Staff Departments in the late so-called Confederate army. The feasibility of the proposed consolidation is generally admitted, and its economy and simplification of army machinery is apparent to all. It is understood that General Grant favors the consolidation and the consequent reduction of the army budget in the diminution of staff officers. The proposed organization is to consist of one commissary general, ranking as brigadier general; six assistant commissaries general, ranking as colonels; fifteen deputy commissaries general, ranking as lieutenant colonels, and fifty commissaries, ranking as majors. Commanding officers of companies of troops are at the end of each month to make requisition, duly approved by the commanding officer of the post or garrison, on the commissary of the district for funds with which to pay his men, and as soon as received to pay the troops in the presence of all the officers at the post. Other checks will be provided to insure the prompt and correct payment of the men. This regular payment of the army at the end of every month, instead of every two and four months, as now, will prove a salutary improvement, by lessening desertion, and consequently increasing the discipline and efficiency of the troops. It is to be hoped this much needed reform will engage the attention of the present Congress.

WITHIN the past five years the private bequests and donations to American institutions amounted to $7,000,000, of which $2,000,000 were contributed during the past year. Who says we are given only to the "Almighty dollar?"

A trap set for burglars in Boston, the other night, detected a policeman on the beat entering the store and helping himself to a quantity of pins and other articles. He was nabbed, and is now under bonds to await trial.

A boot-black in Louisville, Kentucky, recently sued a merchant for one dime for services rendered, and gained his suit. The costs of Court, which were paid by the defendant, amounted to between two and three dollars.

THE Petersburg, Va., Express says it is safe to estimate that from 8,000 to 10,000 negroes will die in Georgia this winter from exposure and starvation. The white people cannot support them.

From California.

The Sacramento Union says that Albert A. Austin, of Brighton township, Sacramento county, was shot and instantly killed, on the 16th inst., by a man named Seeger. The deceased was attempting to assist the constable in levying on some property, to secure a debt due deceased by A. G. Detrick, at whose place Seeger was temporarily residing. Seeger is a German, and has resided in Sacramento City since 1862. Austin was a native of Massachusetts, and aged 35 years.

The S. F. Call of the 18th inst. has the following: On the 10th inst., while John Whitaker was piping in his claim, near Gold Run, Placer county, he fell from the plot on which he was standing into the ground sluice, a distance of forty feet, and was instantly killed.

The mining property of Cole & Stevens, at Brandy City, Sierra county, has been purchased by Philip Van Rensselaer, of New York, for $100,000. The property consists of some of the best gravel claims in Placer county, which will be developed as fast as men and money can do it.

Owing to the fact that those who were sick on the America are convalescent, and that no case of disease has appeared during the last six days, the cabin passengers will be permitted to land to-day, and the steerage passengers to-morrow. So the Board of Health has decided, on report of the Quarantine Officer.

The Board of State Capitol Commissioners have decided to build the second and third stories of the new State Capitol of brick, instead of granite. The excuse given for this decision is, that the building can be completed in less time and at less cost with brick than with granite.

Yesterday morning, as the eight-o'clock train was approaching the ferry landing on the Oakland side, James De Fremery, a well known merchant doing business in this city, jumped off before the cars had fully stopped, and in some way fell, outstruck, upon his hip; fracturing his leg.

D'ARTOIS RESUSCITUS.—From private letters, dated at Mazatlan, and information received from a passenger on the Saranac, we gain intelligence of the gentleman who figured so conspicuously in the brig Bosco affair. On the 26th of December last, D'Artois and nine men, among whom were Malcolm, Kohler, and others from this city, went on board the small steamer Cologne, them lying in the harbor at Mazatlan, and, getting her under way, sailed for Cape St. Lucas. The ostensible object of the expedition was the capture of a French whaler, supposed to be in Magdalena Bay; but on the passage it was discovered that the real object of the cruise was to ward trip, it having been asserted that sufficient men in the interests of the Corona faction had taken passage at this port for Mazatlan, to insure the success of the undertaking. When the Cologne arrived at the Cape, she was boarded by an officer of the United States steamer Suwanee, the last named vessel being at the Cape for the express purpose of looking out for just such adventurers. After satisfying himself of the objects of the party, Captain Shirley, of the Suwanee, ordered the D'Artois party on shore, and placed a crew of ten men on board the Cologne, with orders to take her back immediately to Mazatlan. The Suwanee then sailed north to Magdalena Bay, and, after cruising about for several hours, and discovering no vessel of any kind, went back to the Cape, and, taking the D'Artois party on board, sailed to Mazatlan and landed them. D'Artois was informed that his occupation was hazardous, and that measures would be taken by our vessels to stop it. One of the persons who went on board the Colonge with D'Artois, under a misapprehension of the objects of the trip, arrived yesterday as a passenger on the Saranac.—San Francisco Call, January 18th.

PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION.—The consolidation of the Quartermaster, Subsistence and Pay Departments of the army into one organization, to be called "The Commissariat of the United States Army," is engaging the attention of the general officers now in Congress. Such is the organization of the principal armies of Europe, and such was the organization of the Disbursing Staff Departments in the late so-called Confederate army. The feasibility of the proposed consolidation is generally admitted, and its economy and simplification of army machinery is apparent to all. It is understood that General Grant favors the consolidation and the consequent reduction of the army budget in the diminution of staff officers. The proposed organization is to consist of one commissary general, ranking as brigadier general; six assistant commissaries general, ranking as colonels; fifteen deputy commissaries general, ranking as lieutenant colonels, and fifty commissaries, ranking as majors. Commanding officers of companies of troops are at the end of each month to make requisition, duly approved by the commanding officer of the post or garrison, on the commissary of the district for funds with which to pay his men, and as soon as received to pay the troops in the presence of all the officers at the post. Other checks will be provided to insure the prompt and correct payment of the men. This regular payment of the army at the end of every month, instead of every two and four months, as now, will prove a salutary improvement, by lessening desertion, and consequently increasing the discipline and efficiency of the troops. It is to be hoped this much needed reform will engage the attention of the present Congress.

WITHIN the past five years the private bequests and donations to American institutions amounted to $7,000,000, of which $3,000,000 were contributed during the past year. Who says we are given only to the "Almighty dollar?"

A trap set for burglars in Boston, the other night, detected a policeman on the beat entering the store and helping himself to a quantity of pins and other articles. He was nabbed, and is now under bonds to await trial.

A boot-black in Louisville, Kentucky, recently sued a merchant for some dimes for services rendered, and gained his suit. The costs of Court, which were paid by the defendant, amounted to between two and three dollars.

THE Petersburg Express says it is safe to estimate that from 4,000 to 5,000 negroes will die in Georgia this winter from exposure and starvation. The white people cannot support them.

Daily Union Vedette

Local and Miscellaneous.

REMEMBER.—The VEDETTE is the pioneer newspaper of Utah. Its extensive circulation in every mining camp and city of Montana and Idaho, (which it gives the telegraphic despatches a whole week ahead of the Pacific papers,) makes it the most prolific and vigorous medium for advertising in these four Territories.

TWENTY-NINTH.—To-day is the anniversary of the battle of Bear River, in which Col. P. Edward Connor as commander of forces composed of the Second Cavalry and Third Infantry, won a lasting reputation as an Indian fighter." Though the event, and the return of its anniversary, may pass from the minds of some, we, as a chronicler of events in Utah, desire to note it down.

The public mind, as well as the attention of the assembled Congress, is now drawn to the question of Indian affairs, and we conceive it a duty we owe to one who so distinguished himself in checking the ravages of a race that would have ever been a barrier to the development of the vast resources of this region of country, to refer to the fact. There are few now residing in this Territory who participated in the event which reflected so much credit on their commander, who has been the first to award them the merit of entitling him in the great accomplishment of that day. But few, we say, are here, yet whether they may be sojourning, the events of that day, four years ago, will ever be one of brings the recollection of the faithful duty performed by California volunteers in Utah.

FREQUENT STATES.—The States which have failed to adequately remunerate their volunteers have an example set them by the bill reported in Congress by Senator Wilson. Virginia should awake to her duty, as at the next session of the Legislature there will be a sufficient number of citizens that have faithfully served their State, who will make it a question. Other States having duly appreciated the honorable acts of the officers who severally represented them, have anticipated those who have neglected such a course. The time may yet come when the country may need their services, and officers, notwithstanding the pure feeling of patriotism, may hesitate to leave their families at home and volunteer in the defence of a principle advocated by the State, and let their families suffer in consequence of the lack of justice and parsimonious conduct on the part of the State, whose character they risk their lives to sustain.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.—By public notice we have seen that the citizens of this Territory are about making some move in the election next Monday. A mass meeting has been called, and no doubt an effort will be made to secure a faithful representation of the citizens of this Territory in the next Congress, whose sole aim is for its advancement.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—The telegraphic dispatches say that the Indians on the plains are on the war," and are posted on every action of Congress in sending troops to interfere with the Indians.

INCREASE OF PAY TO ARMY OFFICERS.—Senator Wilson, the friend always of the military, has reported a bill in the Senate of the United States for an increase of pay to army officers.

CALL HIM A CALL.—"Ike" is just around the corner. Give him a call, that is, if he needs a clean shave. It

STORMS.—The Colorado papers all speak of severe storms in the mountains of that section of the country.

Arrivals and Departures.

The list of arrivals and departures comprise several days, having been crowded out by the press of telegraphic and other matter.

For the East—Charles M. White.
For the North—J. G. Hughes, Wash. Q. Shirley, Ben. Bachman, R. E. Strasberger, N. Ellis, A. G. Lowry.
For the West—M. D. Boowie, D. P. Bell, Col. E. Connor.
From the North—A. Piley, Hugh White, M. Thomas Marshall, Samuel C. Bratton Kirby, Edward Barstow.
From the West—Major H. Egan, B. W. Rolfe, Bro. John T. Dillanth.
From the East—John T. Clark, J. R. Caldwell, Strasberger.

MASONIC AND ODD FELLOWSHIP IN THE SOUTH.—We find the following extracts from letters received from the South, going the rounds of the press. One writer says:

"Utah is the Masonic "Beulah" of our country. In every hamlet, village and city of the country, "more light," and there is more light in some or fireside that feels not the influence of the Order, or but numbers one among its household gods. Rich and poor, learned and unlearned meet on the same level, and the hand of Masonic charity is often extended to assist the falling brother. From the Masonic level we all, Federates and Confederates, without regard to political position, meet and work; and on the level of friendship the blue and gray intermingle in fraternal embraces as though they had never been joined in death struggles. The fraternity on the mission of Masonry. It is not wonder that the Order grows! In my humble opinion, the future relations of the nations depend more upon our Order than almost anything else; because on the level we meet without mutual distrust, and the wiles of politicians, and there we see the good qualities of each other. We improve our charity, our humanity, and faith. I think of this often, and always with and hope.

The correspondent of the San Francisco News Letter from Boston, November 8th, says:

"I congratulate you upon the metamorphosis of the Age, its large and handsome appearance, the business as well as the talent which it presents—a mirror, indeed, of the mercantile part of our city, and of the modern Ophir.

"The return of the Grand Lodge of the Pacific a year ago, convinced all that, if past discords or dissensions may have been, no matter what calamity or misfortune befall other institutions, whether social or political, Odd Fellowship has been, is, and ever will be, the same, united, and indivisible! The common sentiment the first time in five years, every delegate was in his seat, was an invincible one, and how dearly the Brotherhood loved each other. The vacant chairs were few. Hearts were full and eyes overflowed. A glorious sight was witnessed. It was necessary—no reconstruction. They had come at the first opportunity, and their mother their absence was only from surrounding circumstances.

A common council had a muss in which resulted in a free fight. Chairs, &c., were hurled at luckless heads, finally the president drew a pistol, but was prevented from using it. He and others were arrested by the police and fined, which closed that day's session.
